

Song of the Heart Game

You need:

- 12 paper 8 to 9 inch plates (Paper not plastic the bean bag my slide off)
- Use the heart decorated ones if possible, if not use a sturdy white, red or pink paper.
- 12 die cut 4 inch hearts. Foam and sparkly foam hearts are found in dollar stores, craft or in seasonal sections of most stores. (Or make your own), one for each paper plate.
- 12 heart song clues (below)

Masking tape

A bean bag (mine is heart shaped and was a small pillow I filled with rice)

To assemble:

- Cut out 12 heart songs (choose form below or use a blank heart and choose song)
- Glue to backs of die cut hearts. With tape attach to cent of each plate.
- On the floor, with tape secure plates in a grid.

Store all pieces in a zip lock bag with directions and song list.

To play:

Have children take turs tossing the bean bag and trying to have it land on a plate. If it is touching a plate, remove the heart form the plate and guess the clue to the song. Then sing the song. This game gets more challenging as the hearts are removed. For small children, let them pick the plate closest to where the bean bag lands.
